SPEAKER SERIES

St. Monica Academy cordially invites you to attend a talk by Mr. Sebastian Lemmon

Strength & Beauty

Reclaiming the Proper Vocations of Men and Women from the Culture of Death

This talk traces the acute errors of modern society to their philosophical ancestors, followed by an explanation of the Church's answer to these errors via an exegesis of Genesis. Through a thought-provoking interpretation of the Creation and Fall of Man, the ancient truth about the distinct gifts, vocations, and temptations of men and women can be rediscovered, and greater confidence gained in embracing Catholic tradition in daily life.

Sebastian Lemmon is an SMA alumnus and current teacher of Scripture and Literature. He graduated from Thomas Aquinas College with a degree in Philosophy and Theology and spent four years in formation as a Franciscan friar, studying and praying daily with the scriptures, before returning to the lay state and becoming a teacher.
